Joshua Seldon

Joshua was born and raised in Pensacola, Florida, and after graduating from Booker T. Washington High School, he joined the Army and served in Iraq for four years. He is currently working as an HVAC technician, and when he is not working, he enjoys building things and cooking (went to Culinary School). Joshua is not a stranger at St. Joseph, even though he was not baptized Catholic, his mother Anna Johnson Thornhill and grandmother Hazel Johnson, who are both Catholics, made sure he was involved with the St. Joseph Youth Choir where he sang and played the drums. He is grateful to both his mother and grandmother that led him back to St. Joseph and officially joined our Catholic faith family.
